REPORT CRITICAL OF CARE HOME FAILURES

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW care home at the centre of a recent police investigation has come under fire from a Government health watchdog after inspectors highlighted a number of serious concerns over standards.

Partridge Care Centre, in Partridge Road, is criticised in a new Care Quality Commission compliance report for failing to protect its elderly residents against the "unsafe use" of medicines and provide consistent and appropriate care.

The review also raises concerns about the general cleanliness of the facilities, staffing levels and employee training as well as noting that residents' consent was not always sought before making changes to their care packages.

The report comes just weeks after police announced the centre – run by the Loughborough-based firm Rushcliffe Care – would not face criminal action following an investigation into the deaths of two of its elderly residents earlier this year.

Detectives concluded that no criminal offences had been committed at the facility and also dropped assault charges levelled against a 36-year-old woman – believed to have been a care worker at the home – arrested in connection with the probe.

An Essex County Council investigation launched following the deaths is still ongoing. Reacting to the CQC report earlier this week, Harlow MP Robert Halfon called for an "urgent explanation" over the issues raised by the inspection team.

"The new report from the Care Quality Commission raises serious concerns, especially around the unsafe use of medicines," he said.

"This is deeply worrying, which is why I have written directly to Rushcliffe Care asking for an urgent explanation and urging them to put the necessary resources in to fix these problems."

He added: "Enough is enough. In the run-up to Christmas and the cold winter months, we need to see rapid improvements in care, especially on the use of medicines."

The Star approached Rushcliffe Care for comment but had not received a response as we went to press yesterday (Wednesday).

Council U-turn over river car park deal?

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

CONTROVERSIAL plans to change a free riverside car park into a permit-only zone for county council staff have been left hanging in the balance after Labour councillors challenged the move.

The decision to restrict parking at the site off Burnt Mill Lane was called-in by councillors Mike Danvers and Jean Clark last week and has now been referred back to cabinet for reconsideration at a meeting tonight (Thursday) with a recommendation to explore the possibility of introducing a pay-and-display system instead.

Members of the call-in committee also suggested that an initial free parking period of two hours is added to bring the site into line with other Town Park car parks.

Speaking after the meeting, Cllr Danvers said: "I was pleased to see both Labour and Conservative members of the call-in committee listen carefully to residents' concerns.

"We heard a number of compelling arguments from anglers, walkers, joggers and disabled residents as to why the car park is so important to them and I feel it is only right that the cabinet's plans are reconsidered.

"The fact that a number of Conservative councillors clearly feel the same way is encouraging and I'm hopeful our recommendations will now be accepted by cabinet."

Under the original plans agreed by cabinet members last month, the car park would be designated for the exclusive use of Essex County Council staff working at nearby Goodman House and completely off-limits to members of the public between 7.30am and 5.30pm on weekdays.

In return, Harlow Council would receive an undisclosed annual payment from County Hall.

Stort Valley Angling Society chairman Mick Westby, who branded the original plans as a "disaster" for disabled users of the car park, said he felt the call-in committee's recommendations were a sensible compromise.

"Although I'd obviously much rather the car park was left as it is, I'm reasonably happy with the pay-and-display option suggested by the call-in committee," he said.

"The two hours free parking should be sufficient for most visitors and I understand there could be further negotiations over introducing permits for anglers to allow them to park for longer periods.

"I just hope that members of the cabinet will see sense and not put profit above the needs of the public. We'll have to wait and see."

Records destroyed in fire at nature reserve

A FIRE which gutted an office at Parndon Wood Nature Reserve is being treated as arson.

The building was broken into on Sunday night and a fire started in the office which is used by staff and volunteers who work at the facility.

It is believed that 40 years of records may have been destroyed but some paperwork in metal cabinets may be salvageable.

Planned events leading up to Christmas are not affected and there has been no damage to the public area of the conservation centre.

Harlow Council has now stepped up ranger patrols in the area and is appealing for help to find those responsible.

Council leader, Andrew Johnson said: "This is another deliberate attack on a popular community facility.

"The fire was put out before it spread further but it could quite easily have damaged the nature reserve and put the lives of the wildlife at risk."

He added: "I would also urge anyone with information on this attack to report it to the police."

Focusing on the positive

A PHOTOGRAPHIC celebration of all that is great about Harlow is now on display in the Harvey Centre.

Featuring shots of everything from Pets' Corner and the Town Park to the River Stort and the town's impressive collection of public sculpture, the What I Love About Harlow exhibition was inspired by residents' suggestions.

The brainchild of church group Heart 4 Harlow, the project saw photography students from Harlow College, pictured above, take pictures of residents' favourite parts of the town.

These are now featured on a banner displayed at the group's base upstairs in the Harvey Centre.

Town chaplain Rev Robert Findlay said he was thrilled by the results.

"We wanted to make people stop and think about what they valued most in our town and challenge a few negative misconceptions," he added.

"The suggestions we received from residents illustrate just how much there is to be proud of in Harlow. Hopefully we can encourage even more people to come forward and tell us what they love most about the town."

Pedal pals complete cycle trek across US

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WILD dogs, driving rain and 100-degree heat were just some of the obstacles overcome by two friends who saddled up for a mammoth 3,500 mile coast-to-coast charity bike ride across the United States.

University pals Rob Norris (25), of Park Hill, Old Harlow, and Mark Webster (24), from Ormskirk near Liverpool, completed the epic three-month trek from Los Angeles to Miami to raise money for three causes close to their hearts.

Riding in aid of the Alzheimer's Society, the Motor Neurone Disease Association and Feed the Children, the pair flew out to LA in September before cycling non-stop for over 90 days to reach the Florida coastline.

On their journey they battled through extreme weather conditions, fought off exhaustion and lost half their kit in a Las Vegas car park.

"Things got really hard in the Mojave Desert, especially when we were struggling up mountains in extreme heat," Rob told the Star this week.

"At one point both our bikes broke and we were forced to walk 10 miles to the nearest town to get them fixed. We had to hide all our kit behind a rock and hope it would still be there when we got back!"

Despite being chased by dogs as they ventured off the highway in Arkansas, Rob and Mark found the locals much friendlier.

"Everyone was naturally quite curious as to why two English guys had decided to cycle the width of their country, and we met some really great people on the way," Rob added.

"It was a pretty tough journey but an amazing experience. It's certainly something that neither of us will forget in a hurry."

The pair have so far managed to raise around £2,500 for the three charities, but Rob appealed for Harlow residents to help them hit their £3,000 target by the end of the year.

"We're pleased with how much we've managed to raise so far but there's still a little way to go," he said. "Any help that the public can give us would be much appreciated."

To make a donation, visit www.bigcharitybikeride.com or visit the pair's Big Charity Bike Ride page on Facebook.

Lottery windfall for carer support group

CARERS in Harlow will be receiving more help after a local support group secured a £130,565 grant from the Big Lottery Fund.

Caring for Harlow Carers provides information, advice and support to carers in the town. The funding windfall will cover almost 40 per cent of its outgoings for the next five years.

As well as offering necessary respite and social opportunities, the group also provides assistance with a range of practical issues such as arranging care benefits and access to local services to reduce isolation and help carers maintain their personal health and wellbeing.

"We are absolutely thrilled to receive this grant," said carer support worker Isobel Atkinson. "We hope to use the money to provide additional services for our carers like some extra support meetings directed at different ages."

She added: "It is all about generally helping our carers to get the relaxation, support and training they need to be able to continue the brilliant work they do."

Youth charity seeks author for teen talk

A SUPPORT service for young people is appealing for a local author of teenage books to do a one-off reading for its members.

Catch 22 is a charity based in Elizabeth Way, Harlow, which helps young people in tough situations to receive more opportunities in life. It is hoping to find someone willing to spend an afternoon chatting with teenagers and answering questions.

"There's no specifications on this," explained volunteer officer Angela Surrey. "We are just hoping to find an author who writes for teenagers, who would feel comfortable reading to a group of teenage students in a book club environment and would be willing to answer questions and give a small talk."

If you think you can help, contact Angela on (01279) 408370.

Hospice lottery draw

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 650505, who lives in Harlow.

Light up for Christmas and win a bottle of bubbly

A FIRM of estate agents in Old Harlow has started a competition to find the house with the best Christmas lights. Howick & Brooker, in High Street, will be taking photographs of decorated homes and then posting them on its Facebook page and in the Star.

A top 10 will be chosen and featured in the company's ad which will appear in the December 15 edition of the Star.

People can then vote for their favourite and the house that gains the most votes and Facebook 'likes' will be declared the winner.

The prize is a bottle of Moët et Chandon champagne donated by Fine of Old Harlow.

Howick & Brooker negotiator James Howick said: "We've always been impressed by the effort that's put into lighting up some of the homes in Harlow over the Christmas period so we thought this year we'd do something to highlight the lengths some residents go to to make their houses stand out.

"Hopefully Star readers will get involved and vote for their favourite on our Facebook page and we can reward one lucky household with a bottle of champagne in time for Christmas."

All pictures must be submitted by December 12. The winner will be announced in the December 22 edition of the Star.

Anyone wanting to take part can email their own photograph along with name, address and contact number to james.howick@hbproperty.co.uk.

Pair threatened teen with knife before stealing mobile phone

TWO muggers who threatened a teenager with a knife before stealing his mobile phone have been jailed. Oluwajuwon Adeyemi-Thomas (20), of Harefield, Harlow, was sentenced to 24 months in a young offenders institution for robbery and possessing a bladed article in a public place. He pleaded guilty to both offences.

Adam Lawal (18), of Playhouse Square, Harlow, was sentenced to 21 months after pleading guilty to a charge of robbery.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told both defendants had previous convictions for robbery.

Richard Stevens, prosecuting, said the offence took place at Passmores Field on the afternoon of September 14.

The pair were sitting on a bench when the victim, a 16-year-old college student, walked past. They followed him before one of them grabbed him by the arm and demanded he had over his mobile phone.

At first the teenager said he did not have one but when Adeyemi-Thomas produced a kitchen knife with a four-inch blade he handed it over.

Lawal took out the phone's sim card and handed it back to the victim, telling him: "If you tell the police we will kill you."

But the teenager knew Adeyemi-Thomas and later picked him out at an identification parade.

In mitigation, Lawal said he did not know his co-defendant had a knife or intended to use it until it was produced.

He said the robbery was unplanned and opportunistic and he now wanted to make a fresh start as his girlfriend was pregnant with twins.

The court was told that on the day he committed the offence, Adeyemi-Thomas was on his way to college to enrol on a computer and technology course.

Passing sentence, Judge Anthony Goldstaub told them their victim had been badly frightened and humiliated by what they had done to him.

Calls for trust to run museum

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

SCORES of residents voiced their concerns for the future of Harlow's museum at a fiery public meeting on Tuesday.

The forum, which was chaired by Harlow Civic Society chairman Stan Newens, was held in response to Harlow Council's plans to offload the popular service and its premises in Muskham Road.

Joel Charles, the council's portfolio holder for community and citizenship, said it had been forced to find £1.9m of savings due to Government funding cuts and had no other option but to find new partners to run its discretionary services.

He added that the authority had received one formal expression of interest in running the museum from a local voluntary sector organisation but was unable to give more details of the negotiations because of "legal issues".

"Although I am not at liberty to divulge the name of the organisation we are currently talking to I am pleased to say they are local and represent the voluntary sector," he said. "If this group does indeed take on the museum service I am confident they will do an excellent job."

But it soon became clear those attending did not share Cllr Charles' optimism, with one member of the public describing the council's plans as "sacrilege".

Concerns were also raised over the long-term accessibility of public records and artefacts, the future of museum staff and the possibility of the service and building being split.

Others questioned the council's apparent lack of a marketing strategy for the museum and whether the authority could guarantee that admission would remain free, with several asking what would happen to the existing provision of educational workshops for schoolchildren under new ownership.

In response, Cllr Charles claimed the council had no plans to sell off the historic building and pledged to retain it "for community use". However, he admitted the service was likely to move from its current premises.

He said that all records and artefacts belonging to the council would be retained in purpose-built storage facilities at the Muskham Road site, while those on loan to the museum would be returned to their owners.

Staff have been told their jobs were at risk but Cllr Charles hinted that some employees could be kept on by the new operators, who could also continue to provide an education service.

Former Labour councillor Derek Fenney then called for the council to put its plans on hold and investigate the possibility of setting up a trust to run the museum, a call echoed in a motion put forward by his former Labour colleague Tom Farr and approved at the meeting's conclusion.

But Cllr Charles told the audience that a community trust had already been set up via the Harlow Voluntary Sector Forum and questioned why the civic society had yet to join.

Speaking after the meeting, Mr Newens said he had been pleased with the turnout.

"We had almost 100 people turn up to express their genuine concerns over the future of the museum, concerns that I'm sure are echoed by the wider public," he said.

"Conservation of and access to Harlow's historic records are under threat because of this council's actions, while the future of a historic and beautiful site remains uncertain.

"I just hope the council will take on board residents' concerns and think again before part of our town's heritage is erased."

Car firm team Mo-tivated by fundraising challenge

STAFF at a Harlow car dealership have said goodbye to their carefully-cultivated face fuzz after raising more than £200 for last month's Movember charity fundraiser.

Ten staff at Motorsales Harlow in Elizabeth Way spent the month growing moustaches to raise money for the Prostate Cancer Charity. Sales manager Marc Philp said

"We wanted to do our bit for a fantastic charity while having a bit of fun in the process.

"A few of us have had friends or family members who've had a brush with prostate cancer so we jumped at the chance to get involved.

"Strangely, sales went up over the month. Our customers must have taken pity on us for our ridiculous facial hair!"

Soccer match proceeds presented to hospital special care baby unit

THE proceeds of a charity football match between local police officers and a team of celebrities has been presented to the neonatal intensive care unit at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The match, which took place at Harlow FC's Barrows Farm stadium back in July, raised over £2,500. The money will be put towards the modernisation of facilities at the unit where more than 320 babies are cared for each year. PAH associate director Wendy Matthews, who received the cheque in her capacity as head of midwifery, said: "We were delighted that the police chose our fundraising appeal to be the beneficiary of their annual charity football match.

"Every penny raised will go towards the unit and state-of-the-art equipment to treat our neediest patients and help their families at a very difficult time."

PCSO Dave Brown, who set up Harlow Police FC in 2008 and currently manages the side, added: "The whole idea about becoming an official team was to have a chance to meet people in our communities at a new level.

"It's a great opportunity to be involved with the local community in a relaxed environment by playing football and keeping fit.

"We are extremely pleased this money has gone to a local worthy cause."

Burnt Mill to end the year as an academy

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ANOTHER of Harlow's five secondary schools will finish the year as an academy after breaking away from local authority control.

Burnt Mill School, in First Avenue, follows Passmores and St Mark's secondaries in making the switch.

Its application for academy status was approved by Education Secretary Michael Gove last week.

Holy Cross and St Albans primaries have also chosen to go down the academy path.

Although academy status will give Burnt Mill greater autonomy and allow it to appoint external consultants and sponsors, senior staff have pledged that the uniform, term times and teachers' pay and conditions will remain unaltered.

Head teacher

Helena Mills, who was praised in a recent Ofsted report for overseeing a vast improvement in the school's GCSE grades during her 18-month tenure, told the Star that the changes would not disrupt students' learning.

"Academy status will not change the values of our school," she said. "It will simply give me the opportunity to make further improvements."

"This is a school where students aspire to achieve great results and where they are taught by outstanding teachers who help them to achieve them."

Associate head Joanna Clark added: "Our focus for some time has been to become the best in Harlow. We provide high class education for the children of Harlow; that's what we are about."

"From the minute they walk into this school, every child is told they have the potential to achieve the best things, to go to university and to secure the best jobs."

"We feel strongly our pupils need the skills to allow them to be as successful as possible."

"Becoming an academy means we will simply continue to move forward in the direction we have been going and to provide outstanding educational opportunities."

HELENA MILLS: "Academy status will not change the values of our school. It will simply give me the opportunity to make further improvements."

Death of former council chairman

FORMER Harlow Council chairman Vernon Albert Phelps has died at the age of 86.

Mr Phelps – known as Bert throughout his time as a Labour councillor – passed away on Monday morning following a long battle with illness.

One of the new town's early residents, he moved to Pottersfield in 1953 and soon became involved with the local Labour Party. He was one of the first elected councillors in 1955 and went on to chair the authority between 1976 and 1977.

An engineer by trade, he worked at Holbrooks and STC in the town and was the chief coach of Harlow Swimming & Diving Club in the 1960s.

He also held the post of chairman of the board of governors at the former Brays Grove School.

Married to Doris for almost 50 years up until her death in 2000, he leaves three children, nine grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Son Neil described his father as a "great man", adding: "He was one of the toughest, most loyal and considerate people that I have ever known."

"He always fought tirelessly for the things he believed in and he was a fantastic role model for his children and family."

Mr Phelps' funeral will take place at Parndon Wood Crematorium on Wednesday (December 14) at 4.45pm.

Wait's over as road crossing work ends

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WORK has finally been completed on a new pedestrian crossing linking Harlow College to the town centre – almost two years after road safety concerns were first raised.

The new Toucan crossing on busy Velizy Avenue was supposed to have been ready for the start of the autumn term in September last year but the project was repeatedly delayed by highways authority Essex County Council.

County Hall first pushed back the start of work until October 2010 after claiming access to the site had been compromised by the start of construction work on the new Anglia Ruskin University building on the college campus.

The project was then hit by further delays as the authority restructured its highways and transportation department before assigning a new team to "revisit the project and review construction methods and materials".

After criticism from angry students, parents, college staff and Harlow MP Rob Halfon, the county council finally started work on the crossing this summer before applying the finishing touches late last week.

Mr Halfon, who launched a campaign

was "relieved" the work was now complete.

"I am delighted that students now have a safer journey walking to and from the college," he said. "Velizy Avenue is a busy road at all times of the day and so the crossing will be welcomed by all the students who have to cross it."

Harlow College principal Colin Hindmarch added: "We have campaigned with Mr Halfon for over a year to get these improvements and we are delighted that this has now happened."

"The safety of college students is our top priority and the new crossing at Velizy Avenue will certainly help."

Witnesses sought to town centre assault

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to an assault in Harlow town centre.

The victim, who sustained face and head injuries during the attack, was discovered outside the NatWest by officers patrolling Market Square in the early hours of Sunday, November 27.

Sergeant Chris Gould said: "It is believed only moments earlier he was with a group of white men."

Anyone with information about the assault should contact Sgt Gould at Harlow police station on 101 or 0300 333 4444 if calling from outside Essex.

Man's death not being treated as suspicious

THE death of a man whose body was discovered at a house in Harlow on Sunday morning is not being treated as suspicious, police confirmed this week.

Officers made the discovery after being called to the property in Milwards at around 8am.

The deceased, who has not been named by police, is believed to be a local man aged in his 60s.

A police spokesman said yesterday (Wednesday) a file is currently being prepared for the coroner.

An inquest will be held at a later date.

Stabbing accused in court

A MAN charged with attempted murder was remanded in custody at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday at a procedural hearing to extend his custody time limits.

Barry Payne (45), of Northbrooks, Harlow, is accused of stabbing Barry Thompson (32) and assaulting police on June 10.

Payne is due to return to court on December 21 for a plea and case management hearing.

Still time to design an anniversary logo for Harlow's special year

NEXT year marks the 65th anniversary of Harlow New Town and to celebrate the Star has teamed up with Harlow Council to offer a talented young artist the chance to design a special birthday logo.

We are inviting budding Picassos aged 7-18 to come up with a design which captures what they feel about the town.

The winning entry will be used as the official symbol of the birthday celebrations which are set to take place throughout 2012.

The logo needs to contain the words 'Harlow turns 65' and should be bright, inviting and easily understandable.

The winner will get to see their design on posters, leaflets, brochures, letterheads and the internet. They will also win a family ticket worth £52 to this year's Playhouse pantomime Peter Pan.

Entries must be submitted by December 23 and each must have the entrant's name, age, address and contact telephone number printed clearly on the reverse. No entries will be accepted after the deadline.

The winning entry will be chosen by a panel including the Harlow Council chief executive Malcolm Morley and the editor of the Star. Council leader Andrew Johnson, said: "This is a great opportunity for a budding young artist to really make their mark in our town next year."

"Your winning logo will be displayed on a range of official council publications and it is going to be a high-profile 2012 for Harlow with the Olympic Torch relay and the Queen's Jubilee all part of the mix."

"So get drawing and sketching, and come up with something really special to put Harlow's 65th on the map"

Post your entries to 65th Birthday Logo Competition, Harlow Council, Civic Offices, The Water Gardens, Harlow, Essex CM20 1WG or email them to harlows65@harlow.gov.uk.

Competition rules

- Keep your design simple; use 3-4 colours maximum.
- Entries should be submitted on an A4 sheet of paper or as a digital image.
- Avoid using coloured pencils as they don't always hold their colour well when scanned.
- Be unique! Get inspiration from things around you but don't copy designs that you have seen somewhere else.

What happened to regeneration of town centre?

SIR, We are writing this letter to express our concerns as to what is happening to the town which we used to be proud of.

In the town centre all we see are empty shops. We have a boarded-up cinema which closed years ago, a site coming into the town which used to be a well-kept garage but now is a derelict area, and a boarded-up YMCA building.

Two years ago we were informed that the town centre would be regenerated. This came with an expensive exhibition of what would be done to the area but this has stalled and the market is now virtually non existent.

We have visited other towns where the shops and markets are thriving, even in Romford which is listed as a deprived area. Our council seems in turn to be selling off parcels of land to build houses for private developers – the swimming pool site and Gilden Way being prime examples – but where has all the money gone?

The elected representatives on the council vote for proposals for which the electorate are vehemently opposed. When they vote for these plans then do not give any explanation as to why they vote against the electorate's wishes and concerns.

Harlow is now going to be a dumping ground for all the rubbish in the local area with extra large vehicles on our roads with no additional infrastructure.

Essex County Council tells Harlow Council to jump and they ask how high? We are being told by our absent landlords how to run our town yet many of them have not been to Harlow.

Come on Harlow, wake up!

Harlow Watch Committee

A hardworking councillor would be a better choice

SIR, I have been a Labour voter all my life but I think it was a missed opportunity – a great shame – to see that the new Labour candidate for MP doesn't actually live in our town. What connection does she have with people here?

We have some great Labour councillors who are genuinely local and very hardworking. Why can't one of them be our candidate instead?

J. Allen

Harlow (address supplied)

Harlow now a case study in living within its means

SIR, I welcome Tower Hamlets resident Suzy Stride's selection as Harlow Labour Party's candidate for Parliament and note she wants to bring "real change" to Harlow. Change to what? Back to the ruin of 60 years of Labour?

How does she see herself as different from what Bill Rammell brought to Harlow as a Labour councillor since 1985 and MP since 1997?

Those years ruined Harlow, bankrupting the council and wasting millions with nothing to show for it but decline and decay. They made Harlow a laughing stock with its nuclear free zone and loony left philosophies.

What version of Labour policies and philosophy does she subscribe to that will change Harlow for the better?

Only now, under a Conservative MP and council, is Harlow re-branding itself and being taken seriously, not just across Essex but across the country. We have had to fight hard because here in Harlow we found out a year before the rest of the country what Labour's legacy was – there's no money left.

Since then we have trailed for the nation what it means to live within our means and to put our accounts in order. Harlow has gone from basketcase to case study on how

Decision to restrict use of car park has been driven by money

SIR, I am appalled at the decision of Harlow Council to restrict public parking at the site off Burnt Mill Lane (Star, November 24), a site that gives easy access to the disabled, families with young children, dog walkers, anglers, cyclists and boaters to name but a few.

This access greatly enhances a lot of Harlow residents' quality of life, both physically and mentally. There is no other easy accessible point for a stroll along this beautiful part of the River Stort.

The council has pointed out that The Moorhen car park is approximately 200 yards away but access to the river path is difficult and dangerous. I ask why the county council employees cannot park their vehicles there?

I completely refute Cllr Tony Hall when he says the new arrangements would make "best use" of the site. Formalise a situation where there was ad-hoc parking in an area that has never been a formal car park and therefore best use of space has never been utilised. Rubbish! Until planning notices were put up there about the council use there were signs which said it was a car park for country park users. Strangely these signs disappeared.

Council staff get exclusive use for riverside parking

Whilst the council said it planned to create a blue badge facility, families with young kids and pushchairs, dog walkers, anglers and indeed many elderly folk in all probability will not have a blue badge.

The whole way the council has gone about the process has been underhanded. I think it was more interested in a cheque from Essex County Council than the physical and mental welfare of Harlow residents.

Marilyn Morris

to cope in difficult times, to which Labour have not contributed one single idea.

While writing, may I add my condolences to the family, friends and colleagues of Nick Macey on his untimely death. He dedicated years of public service to Harlow as a Liberal Democrat councillor and as council chairman.

I disagreed with his politics but I shall miss his eloquent and good humoured contributions to our debates.

Cllr Tony Hall (Conservative)
Kingsdon Lane, Harlow

Homeowners do not own the pavements or roads

SIR, Why are homeowners in Harlow so selfish? Granted they own their homes and their land, but they do not own the pavements or the roads.

Yet so many install dropped kerbs which means there is less and less space for the public to park.

It wouldn't hurt some of them (excepting the disabled) to park a little further away from their houses and do a bit of walking. That's what the rest of us have to do.

It's one law for homeowners, another for everyone else.

Mr and Mrs Agnew
Rivermill, Harlow

No-one should be afraid or alone at Christmas

SIR, After spending 14 years in most of Harlow's children's homes, I fast grew to hate and dread Christmas. On December 23 at the tender age of 14, I packed a little bag and ran away, unable to face another Christmas.

I slept on the streets of Harlow for four long, scary days and nights, avoiding the police who had spent the past five years constantly taking me back to the children's homes.

Over Christmas and New Year I found myself very alone. I found no haven. As I walked I saw the wonders of Christmas in people's warm homes, eating their Christmas dinner and opening presents. I so needed a sandwich, but was too scared to knock and ask, even though food was overflowing. I made do with what people had thrown out.

That Christmas nightmare has stayed with me all my life and I cannot stand the idea of anyone having to walk the streets at Christmas time.

At the age of 18 I could not wait to start my first shift as a volunteer at a shelter in London. I have volunteered at many shelters every year since then and for the past 15 years at Harlow Haven where I have made some wonderful friends.

Everyone should be around people who care at this time of peace, love and joy. No-one should be afraid or alone at Christmas.

Haven has been running in Harlow for 40 years with no paid staff, only hundreds of volunteers. It is something the town should be very proud of.

Poorest families are hit the hardest in budget

SIR, So let's get this right. After the budget earlier this year, our MP votes for a massive hike in prices, including petrol, when VAT goes up to 20 per cent.

Then he campaigns to reduce it again. Touches of the Grand Old Duke of York. However, if we read the fine print in the budget announcement last week what is going to replace the revenue lost from the proposed petrol price increase in the new year? Well that would be family credit, hitting the poorest families the hardest.

Good old Duke Rob Halfon, giving with one hand and taking away with the other. Well, it is the pantomime season.

Cllr Mike Danvers (Labour)
Tunneade, Harlow

Selfish residents throw rubbish out the window

SIR, How thoughtful of the architect of Occasio House to design a rubbish catcher for some of its selfish residents.

It would seem a regular maintenance activity now is for a person to remove the carelessly discarded rubbish that accumulates on the lower roof dropped from a number of the flats.

What wonderful neighbours the perpetrators must make. What a bright future for our town and our country.

New designs for 'ageing' estates

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

PLANS to bulldoze bungalows on three housing estates and build hundreds of new homes in their place will come under scrutiny from councillors tonight (Thursday).

A design brief for the project will be presented to members of Harlow Council's cabinet.

Blueprints for the redevelopment of The Briars, Aylets Field and Copshall Close have been drawn up after six months of consultation with residents of each neighbourhood.

At the heart of the proposals – which received cross-party backing from the authority's Regeneration Select Committee in October – is a recommendation to replace existing homes with around 400 new houses, bungalows and apartments.

If approved, the phased redevelopment could start in 2013 and will see 214 bungalows demolished in small groups before replacement homes are built within the new layout.

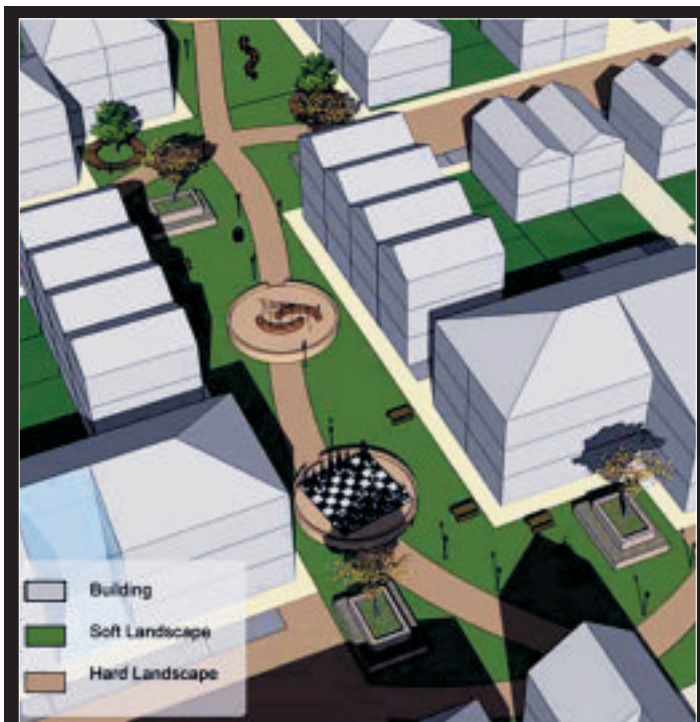

The council claims that by using this approach it will allow many residents to move straight from their current home to their new one without having to move into temporary accommodation elsewhere.

Councillor Russell Perrin, portfolio holder for regeneration, said this week the decision to completely redevelop the three priority estates had not been taken lightly.

"Having embarked on this course we are completely committed to ensuring residents are involved at every stage," he said.

"The design brief sets out the principles and the tone for what the residents of The Briars, Aylets Field and Copshall Close want their estate to look and feel like following extensive consultation, rather than being a definitive blueprint.

"Now the developers will need to bring this brief to life and present us with solid proposals that they can get on and build and which will meet the needs expressed by the residents."

As well as providing a broader range of homes providing at least as much living space as the current properties, the chosen developers will need to show they can deliver improved open spaces and adhere to the latest standards in eco-friendly building.

The design brief also proposes doing away with narrow access lanes and introducing more traditional streets, a plan enthusiastically backed by residents during the consultations.

Cllr Perrin added: "We were delighted with the positive feedback from residents on the design brief. It shows that we really are listening to people on the estates.

"This is not just about building homes; it is also about strengthening communities."

Dress up as Santa and deliver an early Christmas present to Harlow's hospice

HARLOW Town Park will be awash with Santas on Sunday when St Clare Hospice holds its annual winter fun run.

Hundreds of Father Christmases are expected to start the 4km event and the good news is that it is not too late for you to take part.

St Clare will be allowing people to register on the day. It costs £15 per adult (which includes a free Santa suit) or £5 per child (includes a free Santa hat).

Harlow MP Robert Halfon will start the run from the Showground near Pets Corner at 11am. If you want to register on the day you can do so from 10am, giving you time to pay your entrance fee and collect your Santa suit.

One of those who has already registered to take part is Keith Maynard, who will be running in memory of his uncle, Richard Egerton.

"He was a loving devoted husband, dad and brother who lost his battle to cancer in

RED ARMY: Santas line up for the start of last year's fun run in Harlow Town Park

November," said Keith. "Staff at St Clare Hospice took their time and love to help Richard from day one until the end!"

If you cannot take part but would like to sponsor Keith, you can do so online at www.justgiving.com/Keith-Maynard0.

Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for St Clare, said: "I lost someone last December so I know that Christmas can be an especially difficult time of year. "I also know that every penny raised from the fun run will help the hospice care for local people this Christmas.

"Just £40 raised could pay for an hour of counselling by our specialist team or £100 could provide advice and support from our therapy team to help one patient return home for Christmas from our in-patient unit." She added: "It really isn't too late to get involved. It's all about having fun, so whether you want to sprint round the course or take a gentle stroll with the dog, please do support your local hospice this Christmas."

Party time for Plyglass staff

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

DO you recognise any of these partygoers enjoying a drink at this Harlow Plyglass staff Christmas bash back in the early 1960s?

According to Louise Smith who sent in this photograph taken by her dad, John Waine, and featuring her mum Hilda, it was always a jolly occasion.

"We were certainly well looked after by Plyglass," said Louise, of The Dashes, Harlow.

"I don't remember this party, though, as I think this was taken around 1962 and I would have only been about two-and-a-half. But I do remember a lot of the other Christmas dos."

According to Hilda (pictured second from the left), who is now aged 85 and living in Haling Hill, it was quite a nice affair.

"I remember this party. There was a lot of food and drink and all the usual music and dancing," she said.

"The parties were usually held in local bingo halls, although one was on top of Dorringtons once. It was fun, everyone was always in a good mood at Christmas."

Louise said the Christmas parties were only one of a number of events the company used to arrange for the families of its employees.

"They used to run a lot of outings back then – coach trips to Southend and so on – and everyone got to go.

"I always remember one trip in particular to the seaside when disaster struck after we got sand in our sandwiches. Mum and dad decided to take me and my siblings to a restaurant which we thought was wonderful!

"It was a real treat money-wise back then. This was at a time when you didn't leave the house without the essential flask and sandwiches, so we were all thrilled.

"I think actually it later transpired that it had been my brother that put the sand in the sandwiches so we couldn't eat them. He did well that day!"

DO YOU REMEMBER: Theatre van roadshow

DO you remember the Playhouse theatre van roadshow back in 1980?

"What happened to it and when did it start?" she writes. "I cannot find anyone who knows about it but I have 27 photos of the event.

"It was performed at Sherrards Hatch but went round the town and was about recycling rubbish."

Time for a family reunion

NOSTALGIA is pleased to have helped another reader make contact with long-lost loved ones.

After publishing a request from Brian Turner of Dursley, who wanted help tracing family members by the name of Ridley from Fullers Mead, one of his cousins – Jane Chivral – got in touch with the Star.

"Before I married my name was Jane Ridley and I am Brian's cousin," she said. "So he can confirm that he has the right person, I am Frank and Ida's daughter and my brother is Paul.

"Please pass on my details and tell him that I cannot wait to hear from him."

25 years ago in the Star

● The controversial scheme to build thousands of new homes near Potter Street has received the thumbs-up from councillors. They recommended that the Brenthall Park mini town plan be accepted by the full council. The development is now subject to a public inquiry.

● Five young people from Essex, including one from Harlow, are to feature in a new film to promote the Duke of Edinburgh Award scheme. The film, shot entirely on locations in Essex apart from one sequence in Cumbria, will be shown all over the country.

● Harlow Rugby Club has been presented with a cheque by the council to help pay for a scrummage machine. The £550 will go towards the cost of the equipment which will be used in training to help team members perfect their technique.

● Vandalised stained glass windows at St Andrew's Church in Netteswell are to be restored at a cost of £8,000 to the council. Metal grilles are to be placed in front of the panes of the disused 15th Century church which is soon to be used as part of the Harlow Study Centre.

Police launch Christmas drink-drive blitz

THE annual crackdown on drivers who drink over the Christmas period is under way.

Essex Police will be stepping up patrols in towns with bustling night-time economies and rural areas in a bid to deter revellers from getting behind the wheel.

Officers will be using breath tests to detect alcohol and roadside impairment tests to check for drug use.

During last year's campaign a total of 181 out of the 5,279 drivers who were stopped and breathalysed were found to be over the limit, a reduction of 31 per cent compared to the same period in 2009 when 261 of 5,284 drivers tested positive, refused or failed to provide a sample.

Adam Pipe, casualty reduction manager for Essex Police, said: "Drink-driving is no joke. It risks lives, not just that of the driver and their passengers but other innocent people using the road and can result in a criminal record, the loss of a driving licence or a fine of up to £5,000.

"More seriously, those who kill or injure someone could face up to 14 years in prison and have to live with their actions for the rest of their lives."

He urged people to report habitual drink-drivers by calling the non-emergency number 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Thief guilty of stealing Scout camping gear

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MEMBER of a gang of thieves who stole £15,000 worth of equipment from a Scout group compound in Harlow has been convicted by a jury.

Daron Reader (46) was identified by Heidi Shepherd, a friend of one of the Scout leaders, who came forward after she read about the crime in the Star.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told Mrs Shepherd has spoken to Reader, one of five men she saw loading up camping equipment from a container onto a lorry at the 1st Great Parndon Scouts hut in School Lane on the night of February 4.

At the time she did not realise she was witnessing a crime taking place.

Mrs Shepherd's testimony was the only evidence against Reader, of River View, Grays. The court heard that there was no forensic evidence and the other four members of the gang had not been traced.

Two roll-on, roll-off containers lent to the Scouts by ED Edwards Waste Management Ltd of Roydon were also stolen. One contained camping and other equipment while the second was used to store builder's tools.

Reader, who claimed he at his fiancée's home in South Ockendon on the night of the thefts, denied three offences of theft but was convicted by the jury after just two hours of deliberation.

Mrs Shepherd, a support worker for the disabled, told the court she positively identified Reader from photographs she was

She said she first saw the men when she was walking home with her husband and went back out about 11pm with her dog.

She said she knew the Scouts were going camping that weekend and she spent about 20 minutes watching what was going on as the gang transferred items from one container to a flat bed lorry and a Transit van.

When she read the police appeal in the Star a few days later asking for information about the burglary, she came forward.

After the verdict was announced, the court heard that Reader has 44 previous convictions including offences of burglary, handling stolen goods, shoplifting and supplying heroin. He served five years in jail for the drug offence.

Judge Patrick O'Brien released Reader on bail pending his sentencing later this month but warned him: "Obviously you are a candidate for custody."

Teenage mugger snatches schoolboy's mobile phone

A TEENAGER was assaulted and robbed of his mobile phone as he walked home from school.

The incident happened in the Brookes Mead area of Harlow on the afternoon of Tuesday, November 22.

The 13-year-old victim was approached by a youth who asked for the time. When the boy took out his phone, the thief pushed him into a fence and grabbed the Blackberry Curve phone before running off.

The suspect is described as white, aged 16-17 and about 5ft 7ins tall. He had blond or mousy brown short hair and was wearing a hoodie pulled up over his head.

The suspect also had distinctive discolouring to his bottom row of teeth.

PC Joanna Barnes said: "We know there were three schoolgirls standing nearby who did not witness the actual robbery but saw the suspect running off. We are particularly keen to speak to them."

Anyone with any information is asked to contact PC Barnes at Harlow police station on 101 (or 0300 333 4444 if calling from outside Essex) or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Door-to-door lifts to centre

Joel Charles, portfolio holder for community and citizenship, said: "I'm sure this vehicle will be hugely appreciated by those who use the Leah Manning Centre."

FAWBERT & BARNARD'S

Pupils hit the right note for a national children's charity when they performed performing in a special concert at the Royal Albert Hall.

The Key Stage Two youngsters in the London Road school's choir rehearsed for weeks before joining 26 other schools from London and the Home Counties at the Barnardo's fundraising event.

School spokesperson Christine Baxter said: "The event provided a great learning opportunity and life experience and the children were excited and happy to be able to perform on such a world famous stage. "When the curtain went up all the hard work and effort was worth it.

"The concert was vital to the fundraising efforts of the charity and the school feels that in some small way they have been able to help children less fortunate than themselves."

ST JAMES PRIMARY Budding young scientists got to experience life in the lab after taking part in a special science day.

Working in conjunction with the Harlow Leisurezone Science Alive team, the children spent a day immersed in practical experiments ranging from creating their own volcanoes to shooting water 10ft into the air.

An inflatable planetarium was also set up in the hall, allowing the inquisitive youngsters to explore and discover space. Science subject leader Hilary Finn said: "The aim of the day was to excite and engage the children in the subject of science by allowing them time to explore and discover things for themselves in a very hands on way.

"I think they all enjoyed finding out what it feels like to be a real scientist!"

MARK HALL Students can now take their pick from a tasty new menu in comfort at the newly refurbished dining area in the First Avenue school.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon was invited to cut the ribbon during a special launch ceremony for the new Café 54 before joining students for lunch to hear about their forthcoming trip to Kenya next year.

The renovated dining area, which includes a new eating area and kitchen, has been designed to provide a speedier lunchtime service for students.

School spokeswoman Kristine Batley said: "Café 54 has been a real success with both students and staff. It is a much more informal area than it was prior to the summer holidays.

"The staff in the kitchen have worked incredibly hard on the new system and introduced some great new dishes to both the hot and cold menu, making Café 54 a great all round dining experience."

It's the comic that sold for £1,400,000

Many of you probably enjoy reading comics. Two of the most popular are The Beano and The Dandy, which cost £1.50 and £1.99 an issue.

But did you know that a rare copy of the first comic to feature Superman has just sold for a staggering £1.4 million, making it the world's most expensive comic?

The issue of Action Comics No. 1, which cost just 10 US cents when it was published in 1938, was auctioned online with a starting bid of just $1.

Only about 100 copies are thought to exist, and just a few of those are still in good condition.

The seller was not revealed, but there are rumours that the comic was owned by film actor Nicolas Cage.

This sale breaks the previous record of $1.5 million, set by another copy of the same comic. But that wasn't in as good a condition as this one.

Youth councillors waste no time in discussing issues

WHEN there's a need for speed, Harlow's youth councillors showed they can set the pace at a meeting with their counterparts from neighbouring Epping.

The 'speed' meeting was held at the Civic Centre and gave the youngsters an opportunity to discuss various issues affecting young people in both towns.

They were given five minutes to discuss different topics before moving on to the next councillor.

"It was a great way to get to know each other and talk about anything and everything," said Epping youth councillor Daisy Morecroft.

"It was surprising to find Epping and Harlow had similar issues such as transport, safety and the lack of activities for young people in the evening."

But the evening was not just a test of tackling the big issues in a tight timescale. The councillors also scored each other on their listening skills, friendliness and how aware they were of young people's issues.

Suliman Ahmad from Harlow Youth Council and Ellis Spicer from Epping Forest Youth Council scored the most points.

Even the catering was a joint initiative, with the Harlow contingent providing the fruit smoothie cocktails and their guests from Epping the cakes and biscuits.

Joel Charles, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for community and citizenship, said: "This event could teach experienced councillors a thing or two. It was a real masterclass in distilling sometimes complex issues into a short explanation that anyone could understand.

"Epping and Harlow share more than a boundary; they also share common issues that concern our young people. The speed meeting session was a great way to bring these up and I look forward to further sessions."

Let's end a tough year with some good news

CHRISTMAS is fast approaching but I'd like to finish my column for this year by telling you about two really significant pieces of news which will come out of tonight's (Thursday) cabinet meeting.

Both are about growing our town, a pleasant change when the national news seems full of stories about double-dip recessions.

The first thing to say is that tonight's cabinet is being asked to approve a new design brief for The Briars, Aylets Field and Copshall Close estates.

This scheme recommends replacing 218 bungalows on these three estates with around 400 houses, bungalows and apartments.

I would like to thank all the residents who gave us their views during the consultation over this, either in writing or at public meetings. It was a real community exercise and it is great to see local people engaged about the future shape of their estates.

The second exciting item up for approval tonight is the appointment of consultants to help us prepare and market the redevelopment of the northern part of the town centre.

By Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson

Their job will be to help us find a developer to revitalize the area of the town centre. The property market is still turbulent but we're confident we can market Harlow as an exciting investment opportunity throughout 2012.

All of which is not a bad way to end 2011. The council is, meanwhile, doing its bit to save money.

We are closing the Civic Centre from 4pm on Friday, December 23 to January 3 to save money on energy and building costs. Coupled with a pay cut staff agreed to this year, this will save us £100,000.

You will still of course be able to contact the council in an emergency.

On a final note, can I wish you all a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. It's been a tough year but Harlow is set for renewal in 2012.

Beat the Big Chill

Stop water pipes from bursting this winter by keeping them snug.

Last year in a single day, Veolia Water received 1,600 calls from local families with frozen or burst pipes at home.

You can stop this happening to your home by lagging your pipes – it's quick, easy and cheap to do.

You wouldn't expose yourself to the elements, so look after your internal pipes too. Don't get caught out, visit

Pan's people hit the heights at The Playhouse

Review

Peter Pan Harlow Playhouse

THE Playhouse has done it again with a riotously entertaining and magical festive feast for the whole family.

This is the first time the theatre has gone with Peter Pan as a panto, so it was fascinating to see how the tale of the boy who never grew up was handled by the team responsible for last year's Aladdin and 2009's Cinderella.

An energetic old London town market routine featuring typically high production values segued nicely to the Darling's nursery, where we meet Wendy (the excellent Amber Wallis), her two brothers John and Michael – and Peter Pan.

It's at this moment, when our hero whisks the Darlings off to Neverland, where the show can easily disappoint. If the flying doesn't convince it can spoil the remainder of the show, but here they got it spot on, capturing a real sense of wonder and enchantment.

While Wendy becomes a surrogate mother to the Lost Boys and Girls, elsewhere in Neverland the dastardly Captain Hook seeks his revenge on Peter for having chopped off his hand. But there's a crocodile out there that's had a taste of old Hookie's digits and wants the rest.

Jacob Scipio (CBeebies' Kerwhizzator) brought the right balance of child-like wonder and dashing heroism to the role of Peter, while the wonderful Chris Ellison (The Bill's DI Burnside) delivered moustache-twirling old-school villainy to his cracking portrayal of Hook.

But it was Tom Swift's performance as Hook's right-hand man Smee that sent the show into overdrive.

That's not to say the rest of the cast are mnot worthy of mention. Patrick Jacobs in particular was a camp-as-Christmas delight as Starkey, but it's hard to compete with Swift when he's firing on all cylinders.

Great costumes and sets, an imaginative lighting design, impressive dance routines courtesy of Academy Arts and Jacqui Ison Theatre Arts and songs made for another Playhouse panto to savour.

All children may grow up except one, but this enchanting version of Peter Pan is sure to bring out the kid out in all of us.

Wonderland awaits in Christmas Carroll

FAMILY SHOW:

Molly Jenkins as Alice, Cameron Marklew as the Mad Hatter, Mitchell Rous as the March Hare and Elliott Johnson as the Dormouse

STEP through the looking glass into the surreal world of Lewis Carroll at Victoria Hall next week as the Old Harlow theatre stages a breathtaking new adaptation of Alice's Adventures In Wonderland.

Written and directed by Paul Johnson and Keith Mardell – the team behind last year's memorable production of Robin Hood – the play follows Alice down the rabbit-hole and into a topsy-turvy world of her imagination.

On her travels she joins the March Hare, Hatter and Dormouse for a truly bonkers tea party before challenging the fiery-tempered Queen Of Hearts to an unusual game of croquet.

The production will also incorporate some of the characters and vignettes from Carroll's sequel, Through The Looking Glass, with the devious Red Knight and wacky twins Tweedledum and Tweedledee all making an appearance.

By CHRIS MOSS

Co-director Paul told the Star: "This is such a well-loved, timeless tale it seemed a perfect fit for our annual Christmas production.

"It may be abstract but it's something the whole family will enjoy. We've tried to keep it as close to the original stories as possible so it'll be instantly recognisable to anyone familiar with the books."

Paul said the biggest challenge had been to successfully transfer the wide-eyed surrealism of the captivating children's fantasy from the page to the stage

"The books are really all about the vibrant, colourful characters that Carroll has created, and that's what we decided to focus on in this production," he added.

"Whereas in past Christmas productions we've always tried to create realistic, recognisable sets, you can't really do that with such an abstract tale.

"With that in mind we've deliberately kept things simple to allow audience members to fill in the blanks with their own imaginations."

● The show opens at the theatre in Bury Road next Wednesday (December 14) and runs until December 23. Evening performances start at 7.30pm, with matinees at 3pm on Saturday, December 17 and Sunday, December 18.

Tickets cost £10 (£7 concessions) and are available from www.victoriahalltheatre.co.uk or by calling (01279) 420062.

Pre-Shrek Puss is the purrfect feisty feline

PUSS IN BOOTS (3D & 2D)
certificate U, 1h30m

JOLLY green ogre Shrek and his sweetheart Princess Fiona amassed nearly $3bn at the global box office before heading into the fairytale sunset at the conclusion of Shrek Ever After.

All good things must come to an end, except in Hollywood where a single original idea deserves at least one sequel and a spin-off film franchise or television series.

So it comes to pass with Puss In Boots, a computer-animated prequel to the Shrek films that traces the formative years of the sword-fighting feline before he crossed paths with the pungent ogre and wise-cracking Donkey.

The script plunders familiar characters from nursery rhymes and fairytales, putting a fresh spin on Jack & The Beanstalk.

The story begins with the young Puss (voiced by Antonio Banderas) being abandoned at an orphanage where kind Imelda (Constance Marie) raises the kitten as her own.

Initially picked on by the boys, Puss learns to fight to survive and he helps to protect fellow outcast Humpty Alexander Dumpty (Zach Galifianakis).

Many years later, the surrogate brothers join forces with sexy pickpocket Kitty Softpaws (Salma Hayek) to steal magic beans currently in the possession of murderous outlaws Jack (Billy Bob Thornton) and Jill (Amy Sedaris).

These beans are rumoured to grow a beanstalk that leads to the giant's castle and the greatest treasure of all: the Golden Goose.

However, old rivalries between Puss and Humpty jeopardise the daring enterprise. Director Chris Miller maintains a brisk pace, exploiting the 3D format in a rooftop chase sequence and a flamenco-style dance battle between the Casanova cat and his rival, replete with slow-motion acrobatics.

Banderas purrs every line with unconcealed delight and sparks fiery on-screen chemistry with Hayek's feline fatale, while Galifianakis milks laughs and sympathy for his ovoid oddball.

The climactic ascent of the beanstalk ensures a slam-bang finale, suggesting there is plenty of life in the swashbuckling furball if DreamWorks Animation laps up a potential sequel.

Last year Garry Marshall directed the ensemble comedy Valentine's Day, which followed a series of loosely connected characters as they searched for love and understanding on the most romantic date of the year.

In this follow-up, another starry cast of familiar faces hope to be struck by Cupid's arrow before the clock strikes midnight in Times Square in New York, ushering in the new year. Randy (Ashton Kutcher) is stuck in an elevator with a beautiful stranger (Lea Michele), while Paul (Zac Efron) agrees to help secretary Ingrid (Michelle Pfeiffer) achieve all of her resolutions in exchange for tickets to the biggest party of the year.

Elsewhere in the city, Tess (Jessica Biel) prepares to give birth and claim the honour of the first new baby of the year, businessman Sam (Josh Duhamel) searches for his soul mate and Harry (Robert De Niro) bravely battles terminal illness.

Medical officer Dr Sander Halvorson (Ulrich Thomsen) and research assistant Adam Finch (Eric Christian Olsen) invite palaeontologist Dr Kate Lloyd (Mary Elizabeth Winstead) to join them at a dig close to the South Pole.

Kate joins the expedition under station commander Edvard Wolner (Trond Espen Seim), who eventually reveals that an alien craft has crash-landed and the corpse of a creature has been entombed in the ice. Halvorson resolves to harvest a sample of the creature's DNA but before he can do so it goes on the rampage.

What follows is a high body count and lashings of gore.

Adam (Joseph Gordon-Levitt) works behind the scenes at Seattle Public Radio with best friend Kyle (Seth Rogen), who makes public his issues with Adam's artist girlfriend, Rachael (Bryce Dallas Howard).

A doctor's appointment to determine the reasons for Adam's acute back pain reveals the quietly spoken 27-year-old has a tumour that must be treated immediately. His chances of survival are 50 per cent.

Rachael fails to offer emotional support so Kyle steps in, ferrying his pal to appointments where Adam meets fellow patients Alan (Philip Baker Hall) and Mitch (Matt Frewer).

Buoyed by the support of the people he loves and a rescue greyhound called Skeletor, Adam is determined to see his 28th birthday.

Happy Feet Two (3D & 2D) Mumble the penguin (Elijah Wood), who learned to dance in the first film, has raised a son called Erik (Ava Acres). Like his father, Erik is struggling to find his rhythm in Emperor Land and searches for answers with best friends Boadicia and Atticus in the company of wise-cracking Ramon (Robin Williams). Mumble chases after the little ones and returns home to discover a giant iceberg has slammed into their home, trapping all of the Emperor penguins to certain doom. Noah The Elder (Hugo Weaving) attempts to keep calm with the help of trusted penguins like Seymour (Common) but the situation is dire. With time running out, Mumble compels Ramon to marshal the Adelie penguins to help with the rescue effort.

Hugo (3D) Twelve-year-old Hugo Cabret (Asa Butterfield) is raised by his father (Jude Law), who works at a museum and has a passion for cinema and mechanical devices. When the old man dies, Hugo is forced to live secretly in the station with his hard-drinking Uncle Claude (Ray Winstone), who maintains the clocks. When Claude also passes away, Hugo continues to tend the clocks while stealing food from the shopkeepers without attracting the attention of the station inspector (Sacha Baron Cohen). An encounter with bookish Isabelle (Chloe Grace Moretz), goddaughter of toy shop owner Papa Georges (Sir Ben Kingsley), catalyses a journey of self-discovery that Hugo hopes will lead to a message from beyond the grave from his father.

The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn Bella Swan (Kristen Stewart) has chosen vampire Edward (Robert Pattinson) over werewolf Jacob (Taylor Lautner). Jacob is heartbroken but Bella and Edward marry in front of her parents (Billy Burke, Sarah Clarke) and his blood-sucking clan. ## Cottage-style home with two bedrooms in quiet cul-de-sac

coverproperty

Location Cobbins Way, Old Harlow

Category Two bed semi-detached

Additional Garage, conservatory, good size lounge/diner

Guide price £219,995

Agent Geoffrey Matthew Estates, 47 High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 444988

THIS week's cover property in the quiet little cul-de-sac of Cobbins Way, Old Harlow, is a two bedroom semi-detached cottage-style home full of character.

There is a garage, parking space and a good size lounge/diner. The property will probably need a new kitchen and bathroom and currently has a lift installed from the lounge into the master bedroom.

Entrance is through the part glazed front door into a front porch with a door to the lounge/diner and another into the downstairs WC.

The lounge/diner is a generous size and has laminate flooring throughout. There is a window to the side aspect and stairs leading to the first floor.

The dining area has French doors to the conservatory and further double glazed French doors which open out onto the rear garden's decked area. There is also a recessed computer desk area with a window to the rear aspect.

The existing kitchen has a range of fitted units with inset stainless steel sink unit, integral dishwasher, fridge/freezer and space for a washing machine.

How Long Has It Been On The Market?

One of the first things a buyer will ask an estate agent when offered a property is "How long has it been on the market?", and with good reason. Buying a property is a large transaction and it takes courage to commit to undertake such an apparently huge decision - often with very little support other than pure instinct.

One of the most persuasive and apparently reliable indications as to the suitability of a property is to check out whether other people have expressed an interest. There is great comfort in knowing that you are not the only one who would like to buy the property.

Once people hear that others have expressed an interest, then everyone seems to want the property, as the power of 'social proof' kicks in. This competition can often stimulate a quick sale at a high price, and usually occurs when a property is attractively priced in relation to other properties available for sale and is new to market.

Of course the opposite is also true. When the price of a property is overly ambitious, the excitement that should surround a property that is new on the market is reduced, and it can begin to go stale. This is when nobody has made an offer and the property is seen to be repeatedly advertised. When buyers find out that it is no longer new on the market they think "Well nobody else wanted it - perhaps we are making a mistake."

So our advice would be to position your property as one of the best available in its price range from day one. This will prompt interest and encourage asking price offers from qualified buyers. Under your agent's advice, you should then have a choice of buyer, resulting in a fast, reliable, sale at the highest price the market will pay.

Supersized Clio gets a facelift

THE Renault Clio Mk III was always a big car in the supermini class but this facelifted model is even bigger.

At 4,027mm, it's 41mm longer than the pre-facelift model and that extra length is utilised in making the Clio appear lower, leaner and more streamlined.

This isn't one of those facelifts that leaves everyone at a loss as to what exactly has changed. The front end of the Clio is markedly more aggressive with the sharp lines of the air-intake and the headlights combined with the thin, smirking grille.

It's a look that first appeared on the Megane family hatch and it gives the Clio a far more purposeful appearance, even in its non-sporting forms.

The interior is also upgraded with some relocating of the minor controls to increase user-friendliness. Higher spec models now get a soft touch dash with the satellite navigation screen integrated into it.

Beneath the skin, Renault's focus has been on increasing refinement on the Clio and today's model features upgraded sound-deadening measures to combat engine, transmission and wind noise. The occupants should have a pretty cushy time of it because the Clio also continues to set the standard for supermini cabin space with its impressive rear head and leg room, along with a generously proportioned boot of 288 litres. The five-door version featured here doesn't look quite so dynamic as the three-door bodystyle but it's still worthy of consideration, even if you're one of those who buys purely on aesthetics.

Renault recognise that the three-door car will mop up the lion's share of all UK Clio sales but the five-door car adds a useful string to the car's bow, especially for family buyers. For the time being at least, the five-door looks the better buy. The Clio III five-door is offered with a wide array of petrol and Euro IV-compliant common rail diesel engines. The petrol engine range comprises a 75bhp 1.2-litre, a 100bhp 1.2-litre turbo, a 111bhp 1.6-litre VVT with an automatic gearbox and a 128bhp version of the same engine with in manual guise.

The 1.5-litre dCi diesel engine comes in a choice of two power outputs: 86bhp and 106bhp. Five trim levels are available. One of the biggest factors in many supermini buying decisions is safety and the Clio III has excellent neutral weight distribution and some serious brakes to prevent an accident happening in the first instance. It is delivered as standard with Generation 8 Bosch ABS plus electronic brake force distribution (EBD) and emergency brake assist (EBA). Other options include electronic stability programme (ESP) incorporating ASR traction control, understeer control and MSR engine torque overrun regulation. Along with the Modus, the Clio III is the first car in its segment to offer additional beam cornering headlamps, while double distance xenon headlamps are also available for enhanced night visibility.

The Clio III's structure includes a number of programmed deformation zones and has been designed to function with Renault's third-generation system for restraint and protection. This includes up to eight airbags, incorporating two adaptive front airbags complete with load limiter and double pretensioners for the front seats. If you must crash, at least have the foresight to do it in a Clio III!

The five-door Renault Clio III makes an extremely convincing family choice. It's not particularly sporty in feel, but buyers in this market don't tend to seek out Tarmac-scorching performance or bone-jarring ride. That's why it feels a better fit for its market than the similarly soft-riding but aggressively styled three-door car.

You also get a lot of metal for your money when compared with rivals.

It may not be glamorous but the Clio III five-door is going to take a heck of a lot of beating.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20

A Sun/Mars clash could see you resent an obligation. Or if you are a particularly conscientious person, even you may wonder if everyone else is having all the fun. Fortunately, Venus does provide a healing balm, and at least in job applications, as long as you don't big yourself up too much, you can snaffle a new role. Call for more news...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23

A trickle of information can come out unexpectedly, either from you or by those you speak to. Yet if someone says something spiteful or tries to pass on some gossip, what might be their motive? Give them short shrift if need be. And yet, there can also be a pleasant surprise linked to a Christmas card you receive. Call for more astral advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21

With Mercury still reversing, an issue that you have to rely upon an intermediary over, possibly to do with finance or property, can drag and see you become very frustrated. Yet certain people can be worth their weight in gold, and you can learn a lot from the experiences of others, and from their kindness. Call for your financial scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22

The Quarter Moon cautions you to live within your means when it comes to buying Christmas gifts. With Mars in your sector of friendship angling sharply to the Sun, a friend can also disappoint you by not taking their responsibility in a situation. This can be linked to money too. Don't waver around any cash you're owed. Call for more news...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21

You could get more easily exasperated this week. This is all about learning to deal with the energy of Mars in your sector of feelings. Someone may also seem more outspoken and irritable towards you. However, if you are making last minute improvements to your abode for Christmas, you can get a great deal done. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21

You may want to focus on plans in a single minded way, but obstacles are possible from someone older or at work, or within the family. Much as it may not be your thing, you might be better to take the least line of resistance, and bend to people's will. Well, at least a little. If you do, one saga will blow over all the quicker. Call for more astral advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23

Details continue to matter. Attend to these and a smooth week is in prospect. Happily, if you are socializing, perhaps at a seasonal function, you can put all this to one side, and have a really great time. In fact, if there is any dancing or laughing to be done, you're likely to be at the front of the queue. Call your special prediction line for more advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20

The Sun and Mercury remain in a muted area, and with the latter rewinding you could feel more inhibited. Keeping a sense of proportion is going to be the trick even for grounded you, or something can take on a life force of its own - if you provide the oxygen. Yet some longer term plans shape up superbly. Call me now for more news...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23

This is an exceptionally busy time of the year for many of us, and with this in mind it would be easy to get so caught up in things, that you stress yourself out. Decide not to put too much pressure on yourself. Also have some evenings where you don't do too much at all. It will help to keep the balance. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19

You can be an ace communicator, but Mars is connecting you to a deeper more subterranean side of human nature, and if you have a side which can play politics, it can come out now. Neither is this a good time to be too idealistic. The world, imperfect though it is, has a reality you may find distasteful at times. Call now for more advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23

You can find yourself more impatient but this can put others on edge who are around you. If you have some personal issues, try to talk them through. Bottling things up won't help at all. Find yourself receiving mixed messages, and not terms with any issues or concerns. This can be a great week for romance - if you have a sincere tie. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20

An ace alliance between Venus and Mars urges you to go beyond your comfort zone, because the rewards could be handsome. Yet around worldly affairs, you may not help at all. Find yourself receiving mixed messages, and not terms with any issues or concerns. This can be a great week for romance - if you have a sincere tie. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Triumph ties up town's tag title

JEROUNDS Junior School will represent Harlow in the Essex county tag rugby final – after they won the title as the town's tag champions.

The team from the Pyenest Road school clinched victory in the Harlow primary school tournament when they beat Church Langley A 2-1 in a thrilling final following extra time.

It was the second successive year Jerounds have won the event.

Twelve teams from 10 Harlow primary schools braved the windy conditions in the tag rugby competition, held at Harlow Rugby Club on Tuesday last week.

The schools had all finished in the top three of their qualifying events to make the final.

The teams competed in two groups of six with each team playing five matches, followed by positional play-off games.

The winners and runners-up from each group played semi-finals and then a final.

Church Langley A beat St Nicholas 5-4 in the last four. Jerounds defeated Latton Green 5-3 in the other semi.

This meant there was a repeat of not only the pool match, but last year's final.

Harlow SSP (School Sports Partnership) Development Manager, George Gardiner, said: "It was wonderful to see such a good standard of rugby played and well done to Jerounds who are deserved champions and I hope they can continue their run at the county final."

Church Langley had two teams competing on the day, as did Latton Green.

Longwood Primary School, Pear Tree Mead, Roydon, St Albans, St Lukes and Water Lane also competed.

The whole event has been delivered in partnership with and supported by Burnt Mill School, Mark Hall School, the Passmores Academy and Harlow Rugby Club.

The tag rugby county final forms part of the Essex Schools Games and takes place in Harlow on January 18.

Great derby win for Harlow TC

AN excellent victory was recorded by Harlow Tennis Club when they beat Bishop's Stortford 10-6 at home in division one of the Essex Small Club Men's League.

Harlow's pair of Steve Dodd and Harry Melliush tied 6-6 6-6 in their first match with Kevin Millar and Ben Dumayne.

Chris Draper and Bob Asker then drew (6-0 4-6) in their match.

Harlow's other pairing of Fred Lloyd and Christophe Guillard played well and drew (3-6 6-4) against Chris Draper and Bob Asker.

Lloyd and Guillard then overcame Kevin Millar and Ben Dumayne 6-2 6-1.

Two points are awarded for each set that is won and one is given for a drawn set.

In the Essex Small Clubs League mixed division two, Harlow trounced

Stansted 16-0 in their first game of the season.

Harlow pair Steve Dodd and Jenny Hallybone won their first match against Jan Hollis and Richard Portway 6-2 6-2 and followed this up with a 6-2 6-0 victory over Anthony Dynamou and Sarah Hollis.

Harlow's other pairing of Nicola Barnet and Richard Stingemore won both matches.

They defeated Dynamou and Sarah Hollis 6-4 6-2 before overcoming Jan Hollis and Richard Portway 6-2 6-1.

In division two of the Essex Small Clubs Women's League, a depleted Harlow second team conjured a 4-4 home draw against Brentwood. Harlow had only one pair, so they started the match two sets down.

Faced with a younger opposition, Harlow's Brenda Newland and Karen Butler won 10-6 against the first pair and 10-8 against the second pair.

Sweet Carolina puts Jones on right fairway

STEVE Jones has a great chance of cutting it as a golf professional – after impressing teaching pro Glenn Gardner through his progress in the United States.

Jones, 20, right, a member of Canons Brook Golf Club in Harlow, is currently in the second of a three-year golf scholarship at Gardner Webb University in North Carolina, USA.

Jones, whose family home is in Sawbridgeworth, headed back to the States in September and is due to return home again at Christmas.

Gardner, 30, who teaches at Hanbury Manor Golf & Country Club in Ware and is a fully qualified PGA (Professional Golf Association) pro, has known Jones since the summer of 2009 and believes he could even earn a place on the European Tour in the future.

Gardner said: "He has a better than even chance of making it as a pro.

"He has a very realistic chance. When he came back, [his golf] was more refined and he is [now] a very consistent golfer.

"He came in the top ten three or

>>golf

four times [in US College tournaments] in his first year and one of them was a second spot."

Jones' talent first emerged when he was about 8.

He went on to win junior and senior championships at Canons Brook.

Gardner added: "It has definitely helped him by going out there. He is training eight hours a day and he is going to improve. He is better than teaching pros I play and he could make it on the European Tour."

Gardner said that Jones has got stronger with the training out in North Carolina and can now hit the ball at least 10 yards further down the fairway.

The training is exacting and Gardner also feels Jones' character is key.

"He has got that drive and determination to improve. He wants it. He is very professional in the way he acts and trains," said Gardner.

"That is such a big thing. You can normally tell within the first 10 minutes of meeting somebody."

He added: "Steve has that and he asks for different ideas."

Star's New Zealand semi-pro deal

INTERNATIONAL netball player Joanne Harten, from Harlow, will be playing in New Zealand next year in the ANZ League.

The former St Mark's School student flies out at the beginning of January and will be playing for Mercury Tactix in Christchurch. Harten, an England international, has been offered a semi-professional contract. The league starts in March.

The ANZ League is the top competition in Australia and New Zealand. There are five franchises in each country.

Harten goes out there on a high.

Her ice cool finishing in the shooting circle earned her the player-of-the-match award when England beat reigning champions New Zealand 33-26 in the final of the World Netball Series.

Harten, who lives on the Church Langley estate, scored at critical stages in the match at the Echo Arena in Liverpool.

JOY: The England netball team celebrate their World Series win

She scored a crucial equaliser (to make it 6-6) just before the end of the first quarter.

Near the end of the second quarter, England were trailing 13-10, but Harten converted a penalty shot to reduce the Kiwis' lead to a point at the halfway stage.

Harten also showed her class in the third quarter at the end of which England led 29-22 before they went on to win by seven points.

The victory is another success for Harten.

In July she was in the England team that beat Jamaica 70-49 to clinch third spot in the World Championships.

Harten, who graduated from Loughborough this year, also gained a bronze medal for England at the Commonwealth Games in Delhi, India in October 2010.

Turnbull lifts London Cup for first time

FORMER Stort Valley Angling Society captain Steve Turnbull had a memorable day when he competed for the London Anglers Association Benevolent Cup.

The event on the Grand Union Canal in Berkhamsted, Hertfordshire saw Turnbull win the Cup for the first time.

Turnbull netted a magnificent haul of 20lbs 15ozs. This consisted mainly of chub and was caught on the long pole in shallow, clear water, with caster as bait.

Bob Groom, secretary of the Harlow club, was fourth.

Gary Cruse and club captain Steve ### >>angling

Beehan were also in the medals with individual bronzes.

The club's A team consisted of Bob Groom, Gary Cruse, Kevin Shaw and Ray Hickman and added to the overall success by coming a worthy second in the team competition.

The society's monthly outing calendar was resumed on The Potters stretch of the river Great Ouse near to Ely in Cambridgeshire with poor results.

Of the 18 members who attended, only nine bothered the scalesmen, weighing in a meagre total of 4lbs 9ozs.

Long-serving member Brian Walker achieved the odd combination of an old shoe, a bag and a few fish for only 1lb 4ozs!

Gary Cruse and Ray Hickman had a titanic struggle for second place with the former claiming the runner-up spot by 4ozs with 15ozs.

In the Pairs Knock-Out final, held on the same day, Danny Cruse and Bobby Groom defeated Bill Beehan and Mick Westby.

HARLOW maintained their unbeaten home record by beating Brentwood 2-1 to go second in division four south east of the East Men's Hockey league.

Harlow went ahead after 16 minutes of Saturday's match. James Smith received the ball from a penalty corner and fired a shot into the bottom left hand corner.

The hosts doubled their lead five minutes later when Ben Hagger crossed from the right and Andy Boughtwood threw himself at the ball to turn into the net.

In doing so, Boughtwood also knocked his head against the post and was dazed. He was replaced by Jordan Tovell.

Brentwood pulled a goal back after 30 minutes from a penalty corner, setting up a tense but goalless second half.

● Harlow women's team consolidated second spot in the premier division of the Essex Women's league with a 1-0 victory at Old Loughtonians III.

The sole goal came after 17 minutes when Georgina Esterhuysen shot home after good approach work by Claire Attack.

In the second half Harlow's Emma Tweddle was sin-binned for 10 minutes following dissent but the visitors held firm.

HARLOW Hawks registered their first victory in the National Founders Cup Midlands South Group this season when they triumphed 83-72 at Bedford Bulls on Saturday.

The Hawks built up a narrow lead in the first quarter before good scoring from Joe Taffer-Atkins and Nick Moss helped the Essex side lead 51-36 at the halfway stage.

Nick Moss and Chris Jackson combined for 12 of the 15 points scored by the Hawks in the third quarter.

● There was only one side in it as Harlow Hawks won 87-53 at North Herts Knights in the Herts County Cup/Plate Group A on Thursday.

Three pointers from Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz at the end of the first quarter gave Hawks the edge which they built on well. Their good scoring included a 17-2 run in the third quarter.

Hawks have a quarter-final home tie against Hatfield Magic early in the New Year.

Chapman rues missed chances

Harlow Town 0, Needham Market 0
Ryman League division one north

IT was a case of mixed emotions for Hawks boss Danny Chapman after his side were held to a home draw by league leaders Needham Market on Tuesday.

Harlow played solidly at the back and created slightly better openings than the Norfolk side but lacked the killer touch.

The result leaves Harlow in eighth place in the league, four points off a play-off spot.

Chapman said: "We were very good defensively and it is the best Ryan Kirby and Jack Haverson have played together. They kept San Newson quiet and he has scored a lot of goals this year."

"Yet I feel disappointed that we did not get all three points. We had three or four good opportunities."

He added: "We are still there or thereabouts and we have unbeaten for five games in the league. We aim to get three points at Thamesmead Town on Saturday."

Hawks keeper Bertrand Bossu dealt with shots effectively in the first half while Getro Kilapi showed too much to the Needham keeper, Andrew Plummer,

Red card lands skipper with three-match ban

Harlow Town 2, Ilford 0
Ryman League division one north

INFLUENTIAL Hawks skipper Danny Brown will miss three matches over the Christmas period, writes Gavin Jones.

Harlow Town's left back was sent off for a foul in the 81st minute of their home win over basement side Ilford on Saturday.

Brown will miss the clash at Great Wakering Rovers on December 17 and the home games against Ware and Chatham Town on Boxing Day and New Year's Eve.

who saved from Michael Deane.

Chapman said: "In both cases Murat (Karagul) was in space and could have been passed to."

The first period also saw Needham defender Phil Boyland go off after sustaining a stud injury from a challenge by Deane and he was taken to hospital.

On 51 minutes, Murat Karagul scuffed excellent Deane across agonisingly wide shortly before Bossu turned round a Gavin Johnson shot.

Chapman said: "He should have been sent off by the letter of the law as his feet were off the ground. But Danny took the ball with one foot and I think he should have used his discretion. It was more a booking than a sending off."

Harlow went ahead on 11 minutes when a Murat Karagul pass found Michael Deane who controlled it before shooting home from 20 yards.

Harlow were guilty of missing chances which included Karagul firing over with just visitors' keeper Rob Budd to beat.

ingly wide shortly before Bossu turned round a Gavin Johnson shot.

Chapman said: "Their shots came from outside the box and I felt Murat's chance was the best of the game. He just lost concentration."

Karagul and Ryan Maxwell went off with hamstring problems and could be doubtful for Saturday's game at Thamesmead Town while midfielder Towards the end of the first half an excellent save from Hawks keeper Bossu kept out an effort from Danny Gabriel.

Harlow doubled their lead on 70 minutes. A Mark Taylor free kick from the right was turned in by Piers Wixon.

Chapman added: "We did not play well and I was just pleased to win."

HARLOW TOWN: Bossu, Taylor (Barnard 60), Brown, Haverson, Kirby, Maxwell, Marshall (Peagram 78), Lalite, Wixon, Karagul, Dean. Subs not used: Smith, Wheeler, Kilapi.

Leon Lalite will be back from suspension.

Battling Rams snatch late victory

Harlow 17pts, Champion 16pts
RFU London & SE Div III NE

AN excellent fightback from Harlow saw them snatch victory from the jaws of defeat against Champion on Saturday.

The Rams looked beaten when they were trailing 16-7 with just five minutes of the game left.

But pressure on the Champion line resulted in a penalty try and a visitors' player being sin-binned for obstruction.

Michael Dobson kicked the conversion and, with two minutes left, slotted a 30-yard drop goal which put Harlow ahead for the first time.

The Rams kept the lead to take the points against a skilful Champion side.

The pace and skill of the visitors' backs forced Harlow to work hard in defence but in the pack the hosts had the edge.

Early Harlow pressure was resisted before Champion went down to 14 after 17 minutes when one of their wingers was sin-binned for a loose play offence.

Still a man down, Champion went ahead from a 25th minute penalty.

Harlow then exerted pressure before a breakaway led to a Champion try that was converted, leaving the hosts trailing 10-0 at half-time.

Two minutes after the break, possession from a scrum led to Dobson making a solo break and crashing over for a try he converted, reducing the deficit to 7-10.

However, Champion scored a long-range drop goal on 47 minutes and then a penalty on 65 minutes.

The home side raised their game and their patience was rewarded with the necessary scores to achieve victory.

PRESSURE: Harlow players try in vain to charge down a clearance kick from Champion's fly-half
